Interim reference

Mr. Shushovan Shakya, born on 26 July, 1996, has been deployed to our company as a working student since 1 October, 2023.

MA-Industrie GmbH is one of the leading providers of foam technology.

For our well-known customers, we develop and produce high-quality foam inserts for suitcases and containers, presentation cases, transport packaging, structural packaging, disposable and reusable packaging as well as seals, insulation and molded parts made of foam and other materials.

Our headquarters, based in Geretsried (near Munich), comprises approx. 4600 m² of production, storage and office space.

As a web developer in our company, Mr. Shakya is responsible for the following tasks:

- Set up the development environment locally and continued building the project according to specified requirements.
- Redesigned the system's frontend using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to enhance user interface and user experience.
- Developed a 3D foam modeling application using the THREE.js library, enabling users to create and manipulate 2D and 3D shapes within a foam environment.
- Created a Python-based algorithm and API for processing user-uploaded images, detecting -image outlines, and generating corresponding shapes within the foam model.

- Worked closely with team members on code reviews and issue tracking, using GitLab for version control and task management.
- Dockerized the entire system to streamline development, testing, and deployment processes, ensuring consistency across different environments.

He possesses multifaceted specialist knowledge, which he uses to achieve good results.

His quick perceptive faculty and his fully satisfactory intellectual capacity lead to Mr. Shakya being able to cope with his tasks with increasing independence.

He shows great initiative in the services he provides and an extraordinary commitment.

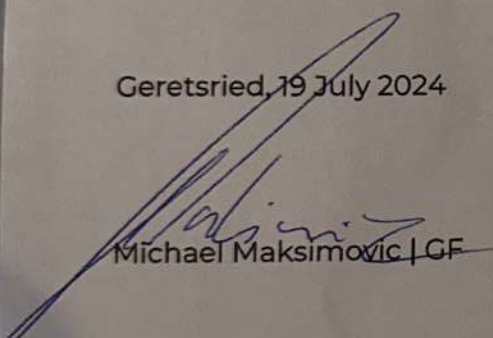

In all situations Mr. Shakya achieves satisfying working results.

We are always satisfied with Mr. Shakya's performance and his accomplishments.

His bearing is consistently highly exemplary and extremely loyal.

This interim report is issued at the wish of Mr. Shakya.
